

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF WASHINGTON COUNTY

SPRINGFIELD, KY, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 21, 1907

The following is the roll of the 100th Infantry Regiment, 1914-1918
Company A	100
Company B	100
Company C	100
Company D	100
Company E	100
Company F	100
Company G	100
Company H	100
Company I	100
Company J	100
Company K	100
Company L	100
Company M	100
Company N	100
Company O	100
Company P	100
Company Q	100
Company R	100
Company S	100
Company T	100
Company U	100
Company V	100
Company W	100
Company X	100
Company Y	100
Company Z	100

Overstocked

In Ladies' Shirt Waists,
Skirts and Lawns.

DISCOUNT OF

33¹/₃

PER CENT ON ABOVE GOODS.

CASH, Strictly at above Prices. All new, this summer's goods.

Grundy & McIntire

SPRINGFIELD SUN

ISSUED EVERY WEDNESDAY

SUBSCRIPTION ONE DOLLAR
(In Advance)
J. ROGERS GORE, Editor and Publisher

Entered at the postoffice at Springfield, Ky., for transmission through the mails as second-class matter.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION

One Year $10.00
Six Months $6.00
Three Months $3.00

In writing to have your address changed always give the postoffice to which your paper is going as well as the postoffice to which you wish it sent.

DEMOCRATIC TICKETS

For Senator—J. C. W. Beckman
For Governor—S. W. Hager
For Lieutenant Governor—South
For Auditor—Henry M. Bosworth
For Treasurer—Ruby Laffoon
For Secretary of State—Hubert
For Superintendent of Public Schools—
M. O. Winfrey
For Attorney General—John E. Hager
For Commissioner of Agriculture—
W. Newman
For Clerk of Court of Appeals—
Chenault
For Railroad Commissioner—
McChord
For State Senator—J. Rogers Gore

Campaign Opened

Courier-Journal, Hot August 21, 1907.
Willson, Republican nominee for Governor, opened his party's campaign for State offices with a speech at Maysville. He was warmly greeted in his native city and delivered an address in which he pleaded with Democrats to vote the Republican ticket. It was evident from the tone of the remarks of Mr. Willson and the other speakers that no effort is to be spared during the campaign to attract Democrats to the Republican standard. The crowd in attendance, while of good size, was not as large as had been hoped and predicted by the Republican managers.

Mr. Willson's Speech

The Evening Post has the following to say of Mr. Willson's opening speech at Maysville Monday:

Mr. Willson wants temperance, but he does not want too much of it. He wants fair elections, but he does not want fair elections secured by Democratic law and Democratic officials. He wants Democratic "conversion," but when they turn from their sin paths like Saul or Tarzan, he believed they are all hypocrites. He wants Democratic votes, but he does not want Democratic advice. He asserts that the Democratic party of today is not the Democratic party of yesterday and he hopes to see in the days of the old Democratic party no more such conversions. He has been told by Governor Beckman, for changing his mind, but he wants the State of Kentucky to change its mind. Even Mr. Willson changed his mind about Mr. Maysville speech. He said, Mr. Willson made just his speech for "fair" elections, for temperance, opposition to every Democrat, and to every policy formulated by Democrats, to be made plain making for the past few years. All the great non-partisan subjects, the election campaign, the election, the election, the appointments, and with the past few months—of are greater.

For "peaceful revolution" Democrats have been proscribed, and Mr. Willson cannot consistently recognize any other "peaceful" coming by Democrats who are not making the Republican ticket.

Democratic Campaign

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 21.—The Democratic State Campaign will be opened within the next few days and conducted in the most vigorous fashion to the day of election in November. Beginning the campaign together at Lexington, Judge S. W. Hager and Governor Beckman will then take different routes, the best of the state going directly to the Republican stronghold of eastern Kentucky and into the great coal country, the Big Sandy Valley, and the Democratic nominee for United States Senator going to Western Kentucky, where, at Paducah, he will start a campaign to arouse the loyal Democrats of that great section of the State. Col. John K. Hendrick, nominee for Attorney General, and a fine campaigner, is to accompany Judge Hager on the trip through the eastern section of the State. Every Democratic candidate will go immediately upon the stump, and Democratic speakers in every section have tendered their services to the State Committee headed by Judge Henry B. Hines. The general campaign is to begin in September and next, when a Democratic orator will be upon the stump at every county seat at which a term of either County or District Court is being held.

Notice to Hog Raisers

Who have any hogs on display at the Washington County Fair, I will be pleased to have parties interested in raising hogs examine them.

The Railroad Commission

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 21.—The House of Representatives, in its Republican majority, announced that the probability is that there will be a Republican nominee for Railroad Commissioner in the next election.

Mr. McChord's record in office was secured for him the uncontested nomination for re-election, the activity of certain railroad interests in this effort to nominate Mr. Drewry is somewhat just as good. Opposition is suggested, we suppose, with the idea of solidifying the party vote. It is not difficult to see, to any one who knows the situation in this railroad district, the Democratic majority is 18,900. If there were any doubt that there was, the record of Mr. McChord's defeat, in the election, thousands of Republican votes for Mr. McChord. When there was opposition to Mr. McChord's nomination from certain railroad elements in politics, the Bowling Green Business Men's Protective Association, recognizing that the opposition was aroused by the faithful performance of his duties, gave to him their hearty endorsement.

At the same time, when it seemed that the railroad opposition might capture the Democratic party machinery and slaughter Mr. McChord, the Louisville Herald declared that Mr. McChord had been the valiant champion of the people that he had been a staunch friend of the Louisville merchants and manufacturers, that he had been able to meet corporate greed with a strict interpretation of the law, and in so doing has incurred corporate enmity. In the performance of his exacting duties, Mr. McChord has exhibited industry and ability. In his work he has labored with patience to develop the facts in every problem. He has not been hurried to passionate action, but he has courage to breathe life into the dead letter of the law.

We believe he will be elected by an increased majority. We believe the Republicans would strengthen their ticket, by naming no candidate for the place, thus giving their support to a policy of reasonable regulations which every day grows stronger with the people.

That is for the party itself to determine. It does not really concern those outside the party. The election of Mr. McChord is assured, notwithstanding recent efforts to array commercial and political interests against government regulation of railroads. The people are with the President and Mr. Taft, with the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Hepburn bill, with a policy of reasonable regulation in the best interests of the people.

It is not in our view, contemporary, the Kentucky Journal, the Times and the Herald, articles which in character, bearing on popular disposition to oppose disrespectfully of railroad management, and these articles may be the forerunners or preparation of a new campaign to replace Mr. McChord.

For this reason, the Evening Post writes to report, the Kentucky Republican magazine which is suggested, we mention to the State public relations.

The cautious and conservative spirit of the Kentucky Commission has been headed "peaceful revolution" in its campaign, and any attack on the record will merely arouse popular opposition to the party making it. Louisville is especially interested in the election of the Commission, to elect the Democratic nominee, to long exercised against Louisville by the railroad industry. The opposition Commission, issued during the election, for the Commission has been requested by the Federal courts and the State is struggling to slow down along some line declared. Mr. McChord's record will be defended from the point of view, and the record will be defended. Certainly he deserves the support of Louisville and of all Kentuckians.

MOORESVILLE

As much as the railroads will not let the coal and tobacco crop considerably.

The A. C. of B. held a profitable meeting here Saturday night.

Mr. W. H. Hines, of Louisville, was here Saturday night.

Mr. W. H. Hines, of Louisville, was here Saturday night.

Mr. W. H. Hines, of Louisville, was here Saturday night.

Mr. W. H. Hines, of Louisville, was here Saturday night.

Mr. W. H. Hines, of Louisville, was here Saturday night.

Mr. W. H. Hines, of Louisville, was here Saturday night.

Mr. W. H. Hines, of Louisville, was here Saturday night.

Mr. W. H. Hines, of Louisville, was here Saturday night.

Mr. W. H. Hines, of Louisville, was here Saturday night.

Mr. W. H. Hines, of Louisville, was here Saturday night.

Mr. W. H. Hines, of Louisville, was here Saturday night.

Mr. W. H. Hines, of Louisville, was here Saturday night.

Mr. W. H. Hines, of Louisville, was here Saturday night.

Mr. W. H. Hines, of Louisville, was here Saturday night.

Mr. W. H. Hines, of Louisville, was here Saturday night.

Mr. W. H. Hines, of Louisville, was here Saturday night.

Mr. W. H. Hines, of Louisville, was here Saturday night.

Mr. W. H. Hines, of Louisville, was here Saturday night.

Mr. W. H. Hines, of Louisville, was here Saturday night.

COME! To the Big Fair

The Big
WASHINGTON COUNTY FAIR!

Springfield, Ky.

Aug. 28-31, '07

4 BIG DAYS 4

Ladies Admitted Free 1st Day
School Children Admitted Free 2nd Day

Merry-Go-Round,
Interesting Shows,
And a Variety of other Amusements

In the second day a handsome Gocart will be presented to the handsomest Girl Baby under One year old. On the third day a Gocart will be given to the handsomest Boy Baby under One year old.

DON'T MISS A SINGLE DAY!

B. G. Fox & Co.

Will be at Springfield to buy 100 mule colts
and 50 yearlings, County Court Day.

Monday, Aug. 26

Too Many Dress Skirts

1 IN TAKING STOCK we find our stock is overstocked. Ladies Dress Skirts. We have selected some of our best and will offer to the trade at:

Great Reduction in Price.

These skirts are cut in good style and come in various patterns. Do not miss this opportunity to get a nice skirt for less than a good one.

We also have a few Ladies White

Duck Suits at $3.50 The Suit

REDUCED FROM $5.00

These come in Eton Jacket. Both Jacket and Skirt are of high quality material with white ors. They are cut in good style. A nice suit to wear in the Fall. The material is worth more than the price we are

One Lot Ladies Stylish Wash

SHIRT WAIST SUITS

At 98c and $1.50

REDUCED FROM $2.00 and $3.00

These are in Ladies Shirt Waists. They are cut in good style. A nice suit to wear in the Fall. The material is worth more than the price we are

The Robertson-Claybrooke Co.

INCORPORATED

Reduction in Prices of Trimmed Hats...

I have made a great reduction in the price of trimmed hats, and having a large stock, you will find it to your advantage to call upon me.

TRIMMED HATS AS LOW AS 50c

WILLIAMS MILLINERY

Dr. J. M. Burton, RESIDENT DENTIST

Teeth Extracted Without Pain. CROWN WORK A SPECIALTY.

All Dental Work Strictly First class. Springfield, Ky. Office in Hagon Block, up stairs.

Local News Notes.

Our Furniture department is complete and up to date. See us before you buy. At Campbell's.

Get Jar Taps and Guns at Lawrence's Grocery.

The Washington County Fair commences next Wednesday, Aug. 28, and continues four days. The management promises the most interesting program since its organization.

The closing sale will be open Friday night, Aug. 23, one night only. Don't forget this move.

To Close Out the lot of Duck Suits at 98c and 50c. They formerly sold for from 75c to $1.00. Miss Williams.

Stone and Sons, 140 Lexington at Lawrence's Grocery.

Insure in the Farmers Home Insurance Company, the only company that pays its losses in full. J. M. Webb, General Mgr., Jackson City, Ky.

A square deal and prompt delivery is our aim at Campbell's.

Attend the Washington County Fair next Wednesday—the opening day—and you will then want to be present each day.

Our Satisfaction Best Guaranteed. At Lawrence's Grocery.

E. C. Fox & Co., will sell at Springfield, County Court day, Friday, Aug. 23, to pay 100 miles plus and 100 miles.

We are still in the lead for Producers so bring all you have to Campbell's.

Ladies free first day of Washington County Fair—next Wednesday. School children free second day.

Fruit jars, jars, quarts and one half gallons, cheap at Lawrence's Grocery.

Honey for Sale—The famous N. H. Oliver brand, 5, 10, 15 and 25 pound pails. The best on the market. M. E. Jones & Co.

Barbours—Parties who have in the past had their pay paid by Mr. Jacob Barbours' deceased, will confer a great favor upon us if they will permit me to bid the hay for them this year. I will have the best operated and any favors that are shown me will be appreciated. Mrs. J. J. Barbours.

The ladies of the Christian Church will give a court day show on the 21st Monday.

Garret For Sale—We have 100 one-year-old stock pigs for sale. Also thirty ducks. It will pay you to see me before you buy. C. L. Bryant.

You don't have to go to Lebanon to get your furniture. See Campbell and if he hasn't what you want will order it for you.

Auctioneer C. M. Campbell reports court day at Danville last Monday. There were twenty-five cattle on the market of inferior quality, a few milk cows from $25 to $40. Good horses were in great demand while "plebs" got a black eye.

Members of New Hope church will give an ice cream supper at Booker station Thursday evening, August 22, at 6 o'clock. All are invited to attend.

See Gardner's of Rockers and get one for the fair. At Campbell's.

Captures Big Tarantula

Lebanon Enterprise. While taking a number of bananas from a bunch at the Modern Grocery Wednesday afternoon Sam Hagan ran his hand over one of the largest tarantulas ever seen in this city. Later Mr. Hagan captured the big spider and he now has it on exhibition at the store. It is something like six inches from tip to tip, and its legs are said to be deadly poisonous. The banana were grown in the south and the tarantula was evidently shipped north with the fruit.

FOR SALE PRIVATELY

Saying fully determined to go to Oklahoma in the near future I will offer for sale, privately, my home at Lebanon street, located just outside of the town limits.

This property is new and up-to-date in every respect, having modern conveniences such as W.C. and Electric Lights, and house has 7 rooms, 2 bath, vestibule, closet, china closet and wardrobes, with large colored front porch, also side and rear porches, inside finish hardwood throughout, tiled with diamond mantles and chimneys, nice yard with fine shade and flowers, well started good garden, poultry yard and all necessary out-houses, has about 3-4 acres of ground and is one of the most desirable homes in Springfield.

State of after this sale of property will consider a proposition or my Grocery and Soft Drink business. For price, terms and particulars call on or address

W. P. LAWRENCE, Springfield, Ky.

Personal Notes.

And a word for a town—found to do the Weekly Personal Notes.

—Miss Willie Knott will return this week from a visit to friends in Indiana. While gone Miss Knott visited Canada and quite a number of the largest eastern cities.

—Miss Alice Knott is a student of typhoid fever at the home of Mr. J. A. Wims, Miss Melvey of Louisville, will arrive this evening to nurse the patient.

—Miss Mary Lampton returned last Friday evening from Cincinnati where, for several weeks, she had been attending the Conservatory of Music. Miss Lampton's average upon examination was almost perfect, and she and her friends have a right to be proud of the record she made.

—Mrs. M. W. Hyatt entertained the following at supper this afternoon: Mesdames W. D. McElroy, C. C. McElroy, S. B. McElroy, G. L. Wharton, C. C. McChord, G. C. Wharton, E. O. Walker, C. A. Green, Misses Katie Cain, Bertha Haydon, Bessie Roberts, Cecelia Simms and Flora Mudd.

—Mr. Joseph Polin, who recently graduated from the Louisville Law School, and who now has his office with Hon. Jno. W. Lewis, is rapidly developing into a first-class lawyer. His friends predict a brilliant career for him in law. He is studious, energetic and accommodating, and possesses those qualities which make successful men.

—Mrs. Hugh Noe, who has been quite ill, is improving, and it is thought she will soon be entirely well. Mr. and Mrs. Noe are rejoicing over the arrival of a handsome boy—Hugh Noe, Jr. Jr. little Hugh, when he grows to manhood's estate, is as genial and accommodating as his father, the "world around him" will be better by his having some one.

—A family reunion was held and entertained at dinner on last Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jones at their home near Valley Hill. Those being present were: Mr. and Mrs. Lagorio Jones and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones and two children, of Springfield, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Aud and daughter, Misses Lulu Jones and Gertrude Brown of Louisville, Mr. A. T. and Miss Hattie Jones.

—Rev. Father Pieters has returned from a three months' trip to Belgium, where he visited his mother and other relatives. Father Pieters' friends in Washington county are glad that he has returned—especially is this true of his friends at Fredericktown, where he is pastor of the Catholic church. Besides being an excellent pastor and good Christian gentleman, he is a genial companion, and his people have greatly missed him.

—Miss Orla Martin, of Louisville, is the guest of Miss Emma Conely, of near town.

—Miss Minnie McElroy has returned from a visit to relatives in Ohio.

—Mr. W. R. Coffey, of Louisville, is here to spend a few days with friends.

—Mr. Wm. Buxton and mother have returned to their home at Harrodsburg, after a several days visit to Dr. and Mrs. Redgrave.

—Mr. S. C. Wharton spent last week at Lebanon.

—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Robertson are spending this week at Lebanon.

—Mr. W. C. McChord and Mr. J. C. Gregory are in Winchester attending a meeting of the Burley Growers.

—Mr. W. L. Sheppard, and wife, of near Blackville, were in town yesterday.

—Mr. Ernest P. McElroy and wife, of Glasgow City, are here to spend a week or ten days with Mr. McElroy's father and mother and other relatives.

—Mrs. C. R. McElroy, Miss Gail McElroy, Mrs. W. C. McChord and Miss Anna McChord are at Lebanon Springs this week.

—Miss Louise Keady McElroy, of French lick, was here with some last days.

—Mr. Ed Kelly, of Louisville, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Hagg, Patrick, of near town.

—Miss T. Scott Meyer and daughter, Miss May, have returned home from a week's stay at Cathop Springs.

—Mr. Chas. Robertson and Miss L. W. Laydon attended the funeral of Miss Grant Hayes at Chapin Saturday.

—Mr. Swanney Hagan, who has been in Danvers, Cal., for the past year is visiting his mother, Mrs. Teresa Hagan.

—Mrs. Churchill, of Bloomfield, spent several days with friends here last week.

—Miss Florence Mauntying of Louisville, is the guest of Miss Stella Simms.

—Dr. J. M. Suckon was called to Danville last week by the illness of his sister Mrs. Will Conliffe.

—Mr. Ed Thompson, of Indianapolis, is visiting his father.

—Misses Nell and Corrie Greene and Martha and Maude Price have returned home after a ten days' visit to friends and relatives at Danville.

—Mr. H. M. Moss is spending this week at Lebanon.

—Mr. Will Wharton is spending a week in Chicago, Ill.

—Mrs. Joan Offutt, of Hickman, is visiting relatives here.

—Misses Jennie and Della Smith are visiting relatives in Lebanon.

—Mr. Fred Grigsby was at Rock Bridge last Friday on legal business.

—Miss Jennie Cokendolpner and Mrs. Alice Bush, of Chapin, are guests of Mrs. Fred Grigsby.

For Sale.

(unless sold privately) on SATURDAY, SEPT. 28, offer for sale to the highest bidder the House and Lot on Lebanon street known as the "Lebanon" home. An opportunity to buy a nice home cheap. Good Stable and grass lot for cow and horse. Will gladly show prospective buyers through house at any time. For further particulars apply to or address

WALTER E. LEACHMAN, Springfield, Ky.

HILLSBORO.

Mr. Tom Bailey and wife spent Saturday night and Sunday with their parents near Texas.

Misses Maggie and Zora Montgomery and brother, Norris, spent Saturday and Sunday with their cousins, Mr. Ham Pile and family, of Mooreville.

Mr. Solomon Kayes spent Sunday with his brother-in-law, Mr. Roy Chesner and family, of Hardesty.

Mrs. Tom Baker and son, Mr. Dee Edgerton, were in Springfield Saturday.

Messrs. J. M. Montgomery and Leslie Bailey were in Springfield Friday afternoon.

Mr. Otis Harmon, wife and little son spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kightly, of Mackville.

Little Margie Gruffy is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. J. M. Shields.

Mrs. Nan Scott was in Willsburg one day last week shopping.

Mr. Felix Noel, daughter, Miss Jessie, and niece, Miss Bertha Berthaw, were in Springfield one day last week.

Miss Eva Inman spent several days last week with the family of Mr. Jim Barr, of Fenwick.

Mrs. J. S. Thomas, who has been very sick, is some better at this writing.

Mr. J. M. Clark spent last Wednesday with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Clark, of Fenwick.

Misses Florence and Pearl Armstrong attended meeting at Willsburg Sunday.

We were sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Lair. We extend sympathy to the bereaved ones.

The ice cream supper given by Mr. Wesley Bailey Friday night was well attended. Had fine music and everyone had an enjoyable time.

FENWICK.

Misses Anna and Rose Kelley left Saturday for Louisville, where they will make their future home.

Mrs. J. G. Cecil and children, of Ray-leigh, were here last week.

Born, to the wife of Jesse Robinson, August 14, a girl.

Mrs. N. G. Adams is visiting relatives at Raywick.

Miss Anna Logsdon leaves Saturday for a visit to her sister, Miss Myrtle Logsdon, of Indianapolis.

Misses Adra Canary and Reta Barber visited at the home of Oscar Bottoms last week.

Will Nalley and wife spent Sunday in Mackville.

C. W. Adams was in Harrodsburg Sunday.

Several from here attended church at Harrodsburg's Chapel Sunday.

Miss Ella Adams visited her mother here one night last week.

THE SUN $1

The Bardstown Fair

The regular annual fair at Bardstown will be held on Sept. 4, 5, 6 and 7, 1907—four good days. It is one of the oldest and best fairs in the State. The large, shady and commodious grounds, good music, fine rings and good premiums always make it an interesting exhibit. Reduced rates on the railroad. Those who will attend are assured a pleasant and profitable time. For further information address the President, or Secretary, Bardstown, Ky.

THE SUN $1

Fair Hats

I have a special line of hats for the fair. Come in and get one before the fair commences—Aug. 28. They are up-to-date and stylish—the newest out.

Also a lot of Veils at low prices.

Miss Willie Knott

A Piano Placed In Your Home On Trial.

IF YOU intend purchasing a piano, it would be profitable to visit our store to get in correspondence with us. Being the largest piano dealers in the South, and having them in our stock lots, enables us to quote prices on Pianos, Player Pianos and Piano Players that will easily convince the most skeptical that we can do all we say. We even have the opportunity. Our line consists of the following world-famous makes:

PIANOS
PRICE $178 UP.
PLAYER PIANOS
$500 UP.

PIANO PLAYERS
PRICE $250

Montenegro-Riehm Music Co., Louisville, Ky.

Kindly send me full particulars by return mail how you will place a piano in my home on trial.

Name

Address

MONTENEGRO-RIEHM MUSIC CO.

INCORPORATED

628-630 Fourth Avenue, Louisville, Ky.

Chickering & Sons, Decker & Sons, Haines Bros., Sterling, Schenck & Co., Strong, Marshall & Wendell, Foster & Co.

Chander, Cramer, The and Cramer and the Autodance

The Centric-A piano, that can be used for both music and dance.

We are pleased to announce to you that we have the right piano at the right price. We will place a piano in your home on trial and if you are not satisfied with it, we will take it back and the trial will cost you a cent.

The Lion and The Mouse

(Continued from Page 6)

not expose the men who have been my friends. It's noblesse oblige in politics as well as in society, you know."

He smiled again at her, as if he had recovered his good humor after their sharp passages at arms.

"Oh, it's politics! That's what the papers said. And you believe him innocent. Well, you must have some grounds for your belief."

"Not necessarily."

"You said that even if you had the proofs you could not produce them without sacrificing your friends, showing that your friends are interested in having this man put off the bench."

"She stopped and burst into hysterical laughter. 'Oh, I think you're having a joke at my expense,' she went on.

"Just to see how far you can lead me. I dare say Judy Rossmore deserves all he gets. Oh, yes, I'm sure he deserves it." She rose and walked to the other side of the room to conceal her emotion.

Ryder watched her curiously. "My dear young lady, how you take this matter to heart!"

"Please forgive me," laughed Shirley and averting her face to conceal the fact that her eyes were filled with tears. "It's my artistic temperament. I suppose it's always getting me into trouble. It appealed so strongly to my sympathies, this story of hopeless love between two young people with the father of the girl haunted by corrupt politicians and unscrupulous financiers. It was too much for me. Ah, ah, I forgot where I was!"

She leaned against a chair sick and faint from nervousness, her whole body trembling. At that moment there was a knock at the library door and Jefferson Ryder appeared. Not seeing Shirley, whose back was toward him, he advanced to greet his father.

"You told me to come up in five minutes," he said. "I just wanted to say—"

"Miss Green," said Ryder senior, addressing Shirley and ignoring whatever it was that the young man wanted to say. "This is Miss Green."

Jefferson looked in the direction indicated and stood as if rooted to the floor. He was so surprised that he was struck dumb. Finally, recovering himself, he exclaimed:

"Shirley!"

"Yes, Shirley Green, the author," explained Ryder senior, not noticing the note of familiar recognition in his exclamation.

Shirley advanced and, holding out her hand to Jefferson, said demurely: "I am very pleased to meet you, Mr. Ryder." Then quickly in an undertone she added: "Be careful. Don't betray me."

Jefferson was so astounded that he did not see the outstretched hand. All he could do was to stand and stare first at her and then at his father.

"Why don't you shake hands with her?" said Ryder senior. "She won't bite you." Then he added: "Miss Green is going to do some literary work for me, so we shall see a great deal of her. It's too bad you're going away."

He chuckled at his own pleasantry.

"Father," blurted out Jefferson, "I came to say that I've changed my mind. You did not want me to go, and I feel I ought to do something to please you."

"Good boy," said Ryder, pleased. "Now you're talking common sense."

He turned to Shirley, who was getting ready to make her departure. "Well, Miss Green, we may consider the matter settled. You undertake the work at the price I named and finish it as soon as you can. Of course you will have to consult me a good deal as you go along, so I think it would be better for you to come and stay here while the work is progressing."

Mrs. Ryder can give you a list of rooms to your suit, where you will be undisturbed, and you will have all your material close at hand. What do you say?"

Shirley was silent for a moment. She looked first at Ryder and then at his son, and from their glance went to the little drawer on the left hand side of the desk. Then she said quietly:

"As you think best, Mr. Ryder. I am quite willing to do the work here."

Ryder senior escorted her to the top of the landing and watched her as she passed down the grand staircase ushered by the gorgeously uniformed butlers to the front door and the street.

CHAPTER XIII

SHIRLEY entered upon her new duties in the Ryder household two days later. She had returned to her rooms the evening of her meeting with the financier in a state bordering upon hysteria. The day's events had been so extraordinary that it seemed to her they could not be real and that she must be in a dream.

The car ride to Seventy-fourth street, the interview in the library, the discovery of her father's letters, the offer to write the biography and, what to her was still more important, the invitation to go and live in the Ryder home—all these incidents were so remarkable and unusual that it was only with difficulty that the girl persuaded herself that they were not fragments of a disordered brain.

But it was all true enough. The day's morning's mail brought a letter from Mrs. Ryder, who wrote it the effect that Mr. Ryder would like the work to begin at once and adding that a suit of rooms would be ready for her the following afternoon. Shirley did not hesitate. Everything was to be gained by making the Ryder residence her headquarters, her father's very life depending upon the successful outcome of her present mission, and this unhoped-for opportunity, practical as it was, she could not pass up. She immediately wrote to Massapequa. One letter was to her mother, saying that she was extending her visit beyond the time originally planned. The other letter was to Scott. She told him all about the interview with Mr. Ryder, informed him of the discovery of the letters and after explaining the nature of the work offered to her said that her address for the next few weeks would be the care of John Ryderson, Jr. All was going better than she had dared to hope. Everything seemed to favor her plan. Her first step, of course, while in the Ryder home would be to secure possession of her father's letters, and this she would dispatch at once in Massapequa, so they could be laid before the senate without delay.

So, after settling accounts with her landlady and packing up her few belongings, Shirley lost no time in transferring herself to the more luxurious quarters provided for her in the $10,000 mansion uptown.

At the Ryder house she was received cordially and with every mark of consideration. The housekeeper came down to the main hall to greet her when she arrived and escorted her to the suit of rooms comprising a small working library, a bedroom, study, and a bathroom, furnished in pink and white and a private bathroom which had been specially prepared for her convenience and comfort and here presently she was joined by Mrs. Ryder.

"Dear me," exclaimed the financier's wife, standing curiously at Shirley, "what a young girl you are. Have made such a stir with a book."

"How did you do it?" she asked. "I thought it was as much as I can do to write a letter and half the time that's not legible."

"Oh, it wasn't so hard," laughed Shirley. "It was the subject that appealed to me more than any special skill of mine. The trusts and their misdeeds are the favorite topics of the hour. The 'wonder country' is talking about nothing else. My book came at the right time."

"Although 'The American Octopus' was a direct attack on her own husband, Mrs. Ryder secretly admired this young woman who had dared to speak a few blunt truths. It was a courage which, alas, she had always lacked herself but there was a certain satisfaction in knowing there were women in the world not entirely cowed by the tyrant man."

"I have always wanted a daughter," went on Mrs. Ryder, becoming confidential while Shirley removed her things and made herself at home. "Give it to me, that's all I could wish. Then abruptly she asked: 'Do your parents live in New York?'

Shirley's face flushed, and she stopped over her trunk to hide her embarrassment.

"No, not at present," she answered evasively. "My mother and father are in the country."

"She was almost not more graceful than a cat," Mrs. Ryder thought, but she did not say so.

"What a lovely girl you are!" said Mrs. Ryder, looking at Shirley with admiration. "I wish you could stay here all the time."

"I wish I could," said Shirley, looking at Mrs. Ryder with admiration. "I wish I could stay here all the time."

"I wish I could," said Shirley, looking at Mrs. Ryder with admiration. "I wish I could stay here all the time."

"I wish I could," said Shirley, looking at Mrs. Ryder with admiration. "I wish I could stay here all the time."

"I wish I could," said Shirley, looking at Mrs. Ryder with admiration. "I wish I could stay here all the time."

"I wish I could," said Shirley, looking at Mrs. Ryder with admiration. "I wish I could stay here all the time."

"I wish I could," said Shirley, looking at Mrs. Ryder with admiration. "I wish I could stay here all the time."

"I wish I could," said Shirley, looking at Mrs. Ryder with admiration. "I wish I could stay here all the time."

"I wish I could," said Shirley, looking at Mrs. Ryder with admiration. "I wish I could stay here all the time."

"I wish I could," said Shirley, looking at Mrs. Ryder with admiration. "I wish I could stay here all the time."

"I wish I could," said Shirley, looking at Mrs. Ryder with admiration. "I wish I could stay here all the time."

"I wish I could," said Shirley, looking at Mrs. Ryder with admiration. "I wish I could stay here all the time."

"I wish I could," said Shirley, looking at Mrs. Ryder with admiration. "I wish I could stay here all the time."

"I wish I could," said Shirley, looking at Mrs. Ryder with admiration. "I wish I could stay here all the time."

"I wish I could," said Shirley, looking at Mrs. Ryder with admiration. "I wish I could stay here all the time."

"I wish I could," said Shirley, looking at Mrs. Ryder with admiration. "I wish I could stay here all the time."

"I wish I could," said Shirley, looking at Mrs. Ryder with admiration. "I wish I could stay here all the time."

"I wish I could," said Shirley, looking at Mrs. Ryder with admiration. "I wish I could stay here all the time."

"I wish I could," said Shirley, looking at Mrs. Ryder with admiration. "I wish I could stay here all the time."

"I wish I could," said Shirley, looking at Mrs. Ryder with admiration. "I wish I could stay here all the time."

"I wish I could," said Shirley, looking at Mrs. Ryder with admiration. "I wish I could stay here all the time."

"I wish I could," said Shirley, looking at Mrs. Ryder with admiration. "I wish I could stay here all the time."

"I wish I could," said Shirley, looking at Mrs. Ryder with admiration. "I wish I could stay here all the time."

with a girl but his father wanted him to marry some one else. They're quarreling over it all the time."

Parents shouldn't interfere in matters of the heart," said Shirley demurely. "What is more serious than the choosing of a life-companion and was better qualified to make a free selection than they who are going to spend the rest of their days together?"

"Of course it is a father's duty to give his son the benefit of his ripe experience but to insist on a marriage based only on business interests is little less than a crime. There are considerations more important if the union is to be a happy or a lasting one. The chief thing is that the man should feel an attachment for the woman he marries. Two people who are to live together as man and wife must be sympathetic to each other's temper. For, cannot talk of sad water. It is these selfish intrigues which keep our divorce courts over-run. Money alone won't buy people these things."

"You're right," said Mrs. Ryder, and she gave her daughter a look that was most favorably impressed with her argument, and she chatted on all the while.

Shirley had heard so young women express such common sense views, and the more she talked with her, the less surprised she was that she was the author of a much discussed book. Finally, tuckling that Shirley might prefer to be alone, she rose to go, bidding her make herself thoroughly at home and to ring for anything she might wish. A maid had been assigned to look exclusively after her wants and she could have her meals served in her room if she had them with the family as she did. But Shirley did not caring to encounter Mr. Ryder's cold searching stare more often than necessary, said she would prefer to take her meals alone.

Left to herself, Shirley settled down to work in her room. She had sent to her room all the material for the biography and soon she was completely absorbed in the task of sorting and arranging letters, making extracts from records, compiling data, etc. etc. as the foundation for the important book she was to write. She wondered what they would call it, and she smiled at a peculiarly appropriate title flash through her mind—"The History of a Crime." Yet she thought they could hardly judge on Victor Hugo. Perhaps the best title was the simplest—"The History of the Empire Trading Company." Every one would understand that it told the story of John Burkett Ryder's remarkable career from his earliest days to the present time. She worked feverishly all that evening getting the material into shape and the following day found her early at her desk. No one disturbed her and she wrote steadily on until noon. She then put her pen down, putting her head in the door to wish her good morning.

After luncheon Shirley decided that the weather was too glorious to remain indoors. Her health must not be spoiled by her sitting in the room for the Colossus, so she put on her hat and left the house to go for a walk. The air smelled sweet to her after being confined so long indoors and she walked with a more elastic and buoyant step than she had since her return home. Turning down Fifth avenue she entered the park at Seventy-second street following the pathway until she came to the bend in the driveway opposite the Casino. The park was almost deserted at that hour and there was a delightful sense of solitude and a sweet sense of new power in the freshly cut lawns. She found an empty bench, well shaded by an over-spreading tree, and sat down grateful for the rest and quiet.

She wondered what Jefferson thought of her early rise to go to his father's house, practically in disguise and under an assumed name. She must see him at once for in him lay her hope of obtaining possession of the letters. Certainly she felt no delicate scruple in writing Jefferson to do so. It was his service. The letters belonged to her father, and they were being wrongfully withheld with the deliberate purpose of doing him an injury. She had a moral if not a legal right to recover them. It was her duty to do so.

She was so deeply engrossed in her thoughts that she did not notice a handsome car which suddenly drove up with a peep of the cab opposite her. A man in a dark suit, with a white shirt and a dark tie, stepped out of the car and walked toward her.

"Hello, Shirley," he said, looking at her with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

"You're just in time for the picture," said Shirley, looking at him with a smile. "I wish you would have expected to find me resting on a bench after a picture of a girl who is so full of energy."

Merchant! Professional Man! Farmer! Mechanic!

For 3500 stations. You may think you don't need it, but you do. A business letter written upon a piece of tablet paper has a "weight" in the business world as soon as it appears.

A nicely printed letter head has its weight in the man who receives the letter.

Don't Write on Tablet Paper!

It may save you some paper, but it may wrong you. People that you are like the paper. NO GOOD!

The Sun print it.

500 Letter Heads for $1.50.

500 Envelopes for $1.50.

If you don't need that many we will print 100 letter heads and 100 envelopes for $1.00—both for ONE DOLLAR.

The Sun Springfield, Ky.

accepted the offer not so much for the amount of money involved as for the splendid opportunity it afforded her to gain possession of the letters.

"So that is the mysterious work you spoke of to get those letters?" said Jefferson.

"Yes, that is my mission. It was a secret I couldn't tell you. I couldn't tell any one. Only Judge Stott knows. He is aware I have found them and is hourly expecting to receive them from me. And now," she said, "I want your help."

His only answer was to grasp tighter the hand she had laid in his. She knew that she would not have to explain the nature of the service she wanted. He understood.

"Where are the letters?" he demanded.

"In the left hand drawer of your father's desk," she answered.

He was silent for a few moments and then he said simply:

"I will get them."

The cab by this time had got as far as Claremont and from the hill summit they had a splendid view of the broad sweep of the majestic Hudson and the towering walls of the blue palisades. The day was so beautiful and the air so invigorating that Jefferson suggested a ramble along the banks of the river. They could leave the car at Claremont and drive back to the city later. Shirley was too grateful to him for his promise of cooperation to make any further opposition and so they were far away from beaten highways, down on the banks of the historic stream, picking flowers and laughing merrily like two frisky children bent on a self made holiday. The place they had reached was just outside the northern boundaries of Harlem, a sylvan spot still unspoiled by the rude intrusion of the city householder. The land thickly wooded, sloped down sharply to the water, and the perfect stillness was broken only by the washing of the tiny surf against the river bank and the shrill notes of the birds in the trees.

Although it was late in October, the day was warm, and Shirley soon tired of climbing the bramble entangled cedars. The deep grass underfoot soaked and her itching, and the natural slope of the ground affording an ideal resting place she sat there, with Jefferson stretched out at her feet both watching idly the lancing waters of the great Hudson, spangled with flecks of light as they swept swiftly of its rocky bed.

(Continued next week)

Stamps of the French Congo. The leopard from French Congo is honored with a place on every one of a series of six stamps issued in 1900.

Each stamp of the series is in two colors and these colors vary, all of which goes to prove that if a leopard cannot change his spots the lithographer can do it for him.

THE DAILY Kentucky State Journal

Published at the Capital of The State.

Contains, besides the Associated Press dispatches of the news of the State and world, full reports of the Court of Appeals, the doings of the State administration, and all the local news.

SUBSCRIPTION $4.00 PER ANNUM. IN ADVANCE.

W. P. WALTON, Frankfort, Ky.

THE SUN AND Daily Kentucky State Journal, both one year $4

SPECIAL

Midsummer Sale

Lace Curtains,
Of Wall Paper, Etc
Carpets,

In this sale we have reduced prices in every department and, for the next three or four weeks, you will be given an opportunity to buy goods at very low prices.

Can Save You Money

During This Sale. Come and get Prices and be Convinced.

Carpets and Rugs

Axminster Carpets worth $1.25 for $1.00
Velvet Carpets worth $1.15 for $1.00
Tapestry Carpets worth $1 for 80c
Extra Super Ingrains worth 80c for 70c
All wool C. C. 60c for 50c
Union Ingrains worth 60c for 50c
Cotton 40c for 30c
Full line of Mattings, Linoleums and Floor Oil Cloth
9x12 Axminster Rugs worth $25 for $20
9x12 Velvet Rugs worth $22.50 for $18
9x12 Tapestry Rugs worth $20 for $15
9x12 Tapestry Rugs worth $18 for $14
9x12 Tapestry Rugs worth $15 for $11
Room size Ingrains and Granite Rugs at less than manufacturers' prices

Lace Curtains

We are overstocked in Lace Curtains and are making especially low prices
 Nottingham Curtains worth $1.00 for 80c
 worth $1.50 for $1.20
 worth $2.00 for $1.60
 worth $2.50 for $2.00
 worth $3.00 for $2.40
 Brown and Tan Curtains worth $2.25 for $1.80
 If you are in need of Lace Curtains do not let this opportunity pass you

Wall Paper

We are going to cut our stock of Wall Paper down we will give one-third (33) off during this sale
 Fine Wall Paper worth 50c for 30c
 worth 25c for 15c
 worth 20c for 12c
 Good Wall Paper worth 15c for 10c
 worth 12c for 8c
 worth 10c for 6c
 Cheap Wall Paper worth 5c for 3c
 Border and Gellings to match and some beautiful combinations in this lot

For The next Thirty Days we will make Special Prices on all

Light Wood Dress Goods
White Goods, Wash
Goods, Etc.

Also on WHITE and TAN SHOES and OXFORDS and LOW PATENT and KID SHOES. Call on us and we will interest you in low prices Yours etc

Cunningham,
Duncan & Company

HAPPY HOLLOW.

Mr. M. C. Keeling and family were called to Chaplin last week to the bedside of the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lango Hahn, who is very low at this writing.
Mr. T. W. Sutherland is on the sick list this week.
Misses Flossie and Pearl Armstrong attended meeting at Williburg Sunday.
Harvie Leachman and Miss Claudie Roalby attended meeting at Williburg Sunday morning and at Mackville Sunday night.
Mrs. John Armstrong and daughter Myrtle, spent from Thursday until Saturday with her sister, Mrs. D. E. Castell, at Chaplin.
Mr. J. W. Walls and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Colvia at Williburg.
Mrs. J. M. Shields spent Saturday and Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. Tolly Gruffy, at Fairview.
Several from this place attended the ball game at Williburg Sunday afternoon.
Miss Laura Scruggs has returned home, after a week's visit to her sister, Mrs. Ed Montgomery, at Brookville.

Mr. Solomon Keys spent Sunday at Polin.
Mr. Joe Newlin spent Saturday and Sunday with his father at St. Rose.
Mr. Lennie Noel, wife and little son spent Sunday with his father, Mr. G. Noel, at Sycamore Valley.
Mr. Samuel Coulter and wife, spent last Tuesday in Springfield.
Mr. Sabe Coulter, wife and son, Cecil, and Miss Mollie Shields spent Sunday with Mr. George Keeling and family near Williburg.
Mr. Otis Harmon, wife and little son visited friends and relatives at Mackville Sunday.
The ice cream supper given by Mr. W. B. Bailey Friday night was well attended and all had an enjoyable time.
Messrs. Oph Settler and "Foxy" Goby were in our midst Sunday.
Mr. Tom Melloy and family spent Sunday with Mr. Jim Oger and family near here.
Mr. Charlie Kays, of Polin, spent one day last week with his brother, Mr. Sol Kays, at this place.
Death's angel visited at the home of Rev. J. A. Sims August 18 and took away his son, Will. His death was due to typhoid fever. He leaves a wife and

A STARTLING SHORTAGE IN COAL!

Fill your Coal House during the Summer or your family may suffer next winter. This is not an advertising scheme; I have no desire to deceive the people.
Read the following from the press dispatches of Tuesday, July 16:

COAL FAMINE IN MIDSUMMER

Butte, Montana, July 15.—Although the middle of summer, a serious coal famine is felt throughout the Northwestern States. The Northern Pacific, in Montana, is obliged to burn Hocking (Ohio) coal, notwithstanding strenuous efforts to secure additional local supplies. A Spokane, Montana, agent has orders for 200 cars, but has been able to secure only nineteen. It is difficult to get any coal from Canada, as the Canadian Government forbids export of Canadian coal until home demands are filled. Nearly all the Northwestern coal mines are running day and night, but are all away behind in their orders.
A great shortage exists on the Pacific coast. The Government has been obliged to order 50,000 tons sent from Baltimore to the naval stations on the Pacific coast. Last winter when the great coal famine prevailed in the Northwest, barns, fences, even floors of houses, were burned for fuel. That famine was partly broken by large imports from Australia, Japan and Canada. This year it is claimed that the entire product of Australian mines will be needed at home; also that little coal can be obtained from Canada because of the enormous increase of population in its Northwestern provinces, making it impossible for the Alberta mines of Canada to supply the local demand.

Last winter the Canadian Pacific hauled coal 3,000 miles from Nova Scotia to Alberta to help supply the suffering settlers. What the people of the Northwest, to wit, Montana, Wyoming, the Dakotas, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Utah, Arizona, Nevada and California, are going to do for coal the coming winter is a serious question.

Long ago the authorities were warned that the coming winter would show a 40 per cent. shortage of coal, but it looks as if the 40 per cent. shortage had already arrived. All the railroads are largely increasing their train service and thus constantly consuming more coal. When the St. Paul is finished to Seattle they will require 6,000 tons per day for railroad use, not to mention the new towns and villages springing up along the new mileage.

For two years past few mines have been opened. For one year past no coal lands have been entered, the President having withdrawn 68,000,000 acres of coal land from public entry.

The great demand for house consumption has not yet commenced. The existing famine is caused by the great demand from industrial plants and for railroad use.

Therefore we are prepared to say that we will have constantly on hand in our yards several grades of the best Coal mined. We have arranged with the mines to furnish the Coal and we will have it, and will sell at the lowest possible figure to warrant success of the business. If you want the Coal give us your order and we will fill it promptly. You can't afford to put it off this time, you will lose money. Remember we are head-quarters for the best that is!

M. H. JONES & CO., Springfield, Ky.

Little son, father, mother, five sisters and one brother besides a host of relatives and friends to mourn their loss. The funeral took place the following day at Williburg.

Mr. B. H. McIlroy and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Tom McIlroy at Walnut Hill.

Mrs. W. C. Gammon and daughter are spending this week with her daughter, Mrs. J. Sutherland, at Sycamore Valley. Miss Sutherland is very sick this week.

Neighbors Got Fooled.

I was literally coughing myself to death, and had become too weak to leave my bed; and neighbors predicted that I would never leave it alive; but they got fooled, for thanks be to God, I was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery. It took just four one dollar bottles to completely cure the cough and restore me to good sound health," writes Mrs. Eva Unanue, of Grovetown, Stark Co., Ind. This King of cough and cold cures, and healer of throat and lungs, is guaranteed by Haydon & Robertson, druggists, 50c and 25c. Trial bottle free.

MCINTIRE.

Mr. Joseph McIntire is on a visit to his brother, Marion McIntire, of Indianapolis.

Masters Robert and Johnny Blanford are spending a few days in Louisville. Sister Desha McIntire, who was called here by the sickness and death of her father, Mr. Hilroy McIntire, has returned to Charleston, Miss.

Miss Bettie Bryan, of Nelson county, is visiting friends and relatives at this place.

Mrs. Anna Bell Blanford and children and her sister, Miss Della, of Louisville, are on a visit to her mother, Mrs. Teresa Blanford, of this place.

Mr. Sim O'Daniel, of Lebanon, is the guest of his daughter, Mrs. Jim Mont gomery, this week.

Several from this place attended the picnic at Hot Springs Saturday, notwithstanding the rainy day.

Tom Wheatley and Twinn Keane were in Bardonia Sunday.

During the thunder storm last Friday evening Mr. Jan Kidwell and several sheep killed by lightning.

Thomas and Lee McIntire sick in

Harry Thompson, three sheep at four cents per pound.
Mr. Jesse Alvey, wife and daughter, of Loretto, visited relatives at this place last week.

Mr. T. E. Ballard has returned from Union county, where he has been visiting his old friend, Polin McIntire, formerly of this place. Polin is well pleased with his new home.

ANTIOCH.

We are having dry weather at this time. A good rain would certainly be appreciated.

Mr. Roscoe Brown and wife spent Saturday night with relatives at this place.

Mr. Coria Mitchell gave a moonlight party Saturday night in honor of his son. Quite a number attended and all report a nice time.

Miss Katherine Kimbrough and mother, of Louisville, are visiting relatives near this place.

Quite a number from this place visited at Tatham Springs Sunday.

Miss Nancy Goff is the guest of her cousin, Miss Annie Goff, this week.

Mr. Gordon and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Abs Phillips Saturday and Sunday.

Rev. H. E. Hatchett is holding a series of meetings near Fellowship this week.

Mrs. Mollie Gruffy is visiting at this writing.

Miss Naomi Taylor, of Tyrone, is visiting relatives at this place.

Mrs. George Hays has returned home after a visit to his mother, who is ill at Williburg.

Mr. Loyd Simpson gave a moonlight party Tuesday night in honor of his daughter. Quite a crowd was in attendance and all report a nice time.

TEXAS.

Miss Uccett Wayne has gone to her home in Louisville, after a short visit to the Misses Claybrooks.

Mr. Harvie Key and wife Messrs. J. C. Cananough, J. C. Kimberlin and J. D. Peterson left for French Lick, Ind., last Tuesday morning. They were accompanied by Mr. W. F. Sweeney of Antioch.

Mr. James Anderson and Mrs. Grace Pauth were married at the home of Rev. R. L. Fardum one evening last week. They extend to them our best wishes.

The little eight-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Green died Friday night of brain trouble. Its remains were interred in the Pleasant Hill cemetery.

Messrs. Hubert and Cora Claybrooks came from Scottsboro, Ala., to be present at the reunion which was given at the home of J. R. Claybrooks in honor of the Claybrooks and Durrett. Quite a number were present and an enjoyable day was spent.

Mr. Billy Holderman died at his home Monday evening about three o'clock. His remains were laid to rest in the old Holderman burying ground. Mr. Holderman leaves a wife and six children to mourn his death. In losing him we realize we have lost a good man and a true citizen.

Ice Loupan Books

Saves money by buying ice coupon books. Books of 500 pounds will be sold at a discount of 5 per cent, and a book of 1,000 pounds at a discount of 10 per cent. Ice is 50 cents a hundred. Cash must be paid.

Subscribe for The Sun $1.00 year.

PUBLIC SALE!

A Fine Farm

Monday, Sept. 23

On the above date, at 1 o'clock, P. M., in front of the Court house in Springfield, I will offer for sale my farm, situated on the Bardonia and Springfield turnpike, about 6 miles from Springfield, CONTAINING 150 ACRES. The farm is in good state of cultivation and contains about 23 acres of good tobacco land, three cherry trees, three comfortable houses and is well watered, also a well and fine springs.

Terms made known on day of sale. For further information call on address.

B. F. Payne

Springfield, Ky., B. F. D. No. 2

CUMBERLAND TELEPHONE & TELEGRAPH CO.

Long distance lines and telephones of this Company enable you to talk almost anywhere in Southern Indiana, Southern Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana. We can put you in quick and satisfactory communication with the people of this great section of the country. We solicit your patronage. Rates reasonable. Equipments and facilities unsurpassed.

JAMES E. CALDWELL, President & Gen'l Manager.

LELAND HUME, Sec'y & Asst. Gen'l Mgr.

T. D. WEBB, Treasurer.

WHITE HALL.

Hay bought of Wm. Graham & Co. 20 head of stock ewes. Price $7 per head.

G. L. Warner and G. D. Shewmaker bought of W. D. Hatchett and son 20 head of ewes. Price $6 per head.

Willie Hughes of Williburg, spent Saturday night and Sunday with his cousin, Clay Shewmaker.

Mrs. S. P. Divine and children who have been visiting friends and relatives in Mercer county, have returned home.

Mr. Harrison Steele, of near Harrodsburg, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Oda Warner.

Mr. Sabe Cooksey and wife attended church at Battle Sunday and dined with Mr. Willie Hays and family.

Mr. Loyd Cooksey spent several days with his uncle, Sabe Cooksey, last week.

Mrs. Margie Foster, of Bardonia, has been visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ellen Busby.

Mrs. Ellen Busby is spending this week with her brother, G. W. Foster, of Rose Hill.

Mr. Earl Cheatham and Miss Jimmie Steele called on Misses Alice and Hattie Busby.

Asks $10,000 Damages.

Lebanon Enterprise. "During the past week Frank Pitman formerly a brakeman in the service of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, instituted suit in the Marion Circuit Court against the company for $10,000 damages alleged to have been sustained in attempting to get aboard a moving train while in the discharge of his duties. The accident occurred at the depot in this city on the 28th day of July, 1906, and as a result Pitman had a leg broken, three ribs fractured and was otherwise painfully bruised about the face and body."

C. L. Grundy Rt. 1, has for sale two Ohio improved Chester White male shoats.

Goddard Grundy Valley Hill, has for sale three sows and pigs. Also two good Southdown bucks.

FOR AGENTS—AN OPPORTUNITY.

"The Old World And Its Ways"
By William Jennings Bryan

Now ready for solicitors. 376 Imperial Octavo Pages, 251 Superb Engravings from Photographs taken by Col. Bryan.

Accounts his trip around the world and his visits to all nations. The greatest book of travel ever written. The most successful book of this generation. 25,000 called for in 90 days. Write us for sample reports of first 80 agents employed. The people buy it eagerly. The agent's harvest. Outfit FREE—Send fifty cents to cover cost of mailing and handling.

THE THOMPSON PUBLISHING CO., St. Louis, Mo.

Good Property FOR SALE

BY W. T. EWING, REAL ESTATE AGENCY, HARRODSBURG, KY.

200 acres with 80 acres bottom on Chaplin river at $25.
218 acres in Washington county, six miles from Perryville, at $30.
120 acres, nicely improved, near Cardwell, $4,000.
216 acres near Washington county village at $45.
247 acres near Salvisa, fine for any crop, $7,500.
200 acres fine land near McAfee at $68.
309 acres, Allen county, Ky., increased 40 per cent. in 1 year, good for $10,000 in 2 years, $4,500.
Lively Stable, 10 room house, grocery business, and stock, $6,000. Good for $1,800 a year.
Residence at blacksmith shop with $800 a year trade for $900.